

"HE DOETH ALL THINGS WELL."
Mark vii, 35, 19-20, 22.
"He hath done all things well; he maketh both the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak."

TODAY'S lesson gives a special illustration along the line of faith in God. A person was brought to the Savior to heal who was deaf and had an impediment in his speech. The instance under consideration is peculiar. (1) Because Jesus took the man, away from the multitude and healed him privately. (2) He specifically said to the man, "Thou shalt hear, and thy tongue shall be loosed, and thou shalt speak plainly." (3) The man's ears, as though to startle some life current through them, then he opened his mouth and he spoke. We understand that these methods were used in order to attract the man's attention and assist him in the exercise of faith.

The statement that Jesus signed in words of today, was one only recently that it indicated His deep sympathy with the man before Him and with the greatest creation in general. The lesson seems to be that He was touched with a feeling of man's infirmities.

as had been prophesied. He was perfect. He did not have a body with aches and pains and blemishes, such as other men have, but this did not make Him cold and unsympathetic, rather the reverse. His perfect mind would make all His sympathies more active than ours. His sympathy would be stronger. His sense of pain keener. We, as a fallen race, have become so accustomed to many of our surroundings that they are commonplace and we are inclined to consider them natural—forgetting that the natural order of man would be the perfect order, and that the blemished state is the unnatural.

In yet another way may we suppose our Master was touched with a feeling of our infirmities, namely, by reason of His loving sympathy on the occasion of each miracle. It is not the meaning of the Scripture which declares that "He poured out His soul unto death." Truly, surely, His sympathy was being exhausted in the healing, blessing, comforting and instructing of those with whom He was in contact. This thought should properly bring our hearts into very close touch and sympathy with Him, and give us that much clearer view of the Savior's love.

The day before His crucifixion our Lord said, "My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death: I have a baptism to be baptized with, and how am I straitened until it be accomplished?" It was accomplished fully the following day, on Calvary, when He cried, "It is finished." His baptism into death was accomplished.

It is following the account of this miracle that we read that the multitude declared the words of our text. We are not to understand that merely this one healing was the basis of their comment for the account of these same miracles by St. Matthew is 23-25. Let us of great multitudes gathered, having with them many lame, blind, dumb and maimed, and many others, and they came often down to His feet, and He healed them. Inasmuch that the multitudes wondered and glorified God.

"Manifested Forth His Glory." Let us never lose sight of the great central thought of this story, namely, that the Lord's miracles were merely incidents and not His real work. The miracles were merely incidents and not His real work. The miracles were merely incidents and not His real work. The miracles were merely incidents and not His real work.

It would have been a still greater and grander work for Jesus to have poured the Divine Plan, and to have opened the eyes of the understanding of the people, and their desire for this world could not be accomplished by any extent until after He had ascended up on high, and had appropriated the merit of His sacrifice to the justification of believers. Hence it was that Jesus said to His disciples, "Greater works than these shall ye do, because I go to My Father."

Woodrow Wilson, Scholar and Statesman, Democratic Candidate for President.

A Dozen Reasons.

Here are a dozen reasons why you should vote for Woodrow Wilson for President:

He is the only candidate for President who represents the real, the vital and the effective progressive forces in this country.

He stands for tariff revision downward in the interest of lower prices and the elimination of monopoly.

He stands for trust legislation which will prevent the control of prices through any sort of monopoly.

He stands for the income tax and believes that wealth should share the burdens as well as the blessings of government.

He stands for the rights of labor and the protection of the man who earns his bread by the sweat of his brow, as shown in his record as Governor of New Jersey.

He stands for the revival of our merchant marine, and for the government encouragement of agriculture, industrial and vocational education.

He treats the people and believes that the governor should govern; and that Senators should be chosen by the people.

He will "Clean House" at Washington as he "CLEANED HOUSE" in New Jersey.

He preaches and practices clean politics, and practices it effectively. He unambiguously opposes machine politics and the rule of the bosses.

He stands for legitimate big business every day, but for monopoly never.

He preaches and practices "He approaches every problem with the solemn promise to treat it in the highest sense, a servant of the people."

Wilson a Big Favorite.

The New York Herald has for a score of years presented a straw vote before each Presidential election, the result of which has usually proven its correctness. The paper is supporting Taft, but does not color its news to suit its bias. The canvass on a larger scale this year than ever before, that paper having united with a number of other dailies, including the Cincinnati Enquirer, in taking a straw vote. Twenty-nine states have been pretty thoroughly canvassed and it is shown that twenty-three of them are for Wilson, while Roosevelt has a slight lead in five and Taft in one. Wilson's total vote in the twenty-nine is about as much as that of Taft and Roosevelt combined. The Cincinnati Enquirer, which frequently does not support Democratic nominees, says that Wilson will carry the pivotal states of New York, Ohio and Indiana, and have three or four hundred votes in the electoral college, when only 200 is necessary to win. All the news is good and of a nature to fill the Democratic heart with hope.

The assurance of success may make voters more than ever for a and this is the only that it creates. A spirit of overconfidence might result in defeat. The opposition is active and alert. It has all the money it needs and has only to signify its desire to have many millions more added to their resources. Our candidate will not accept tainted money. It is up to the people finance his campaign. He needs both their money and their support. A glorious opportunity has opened for the Democrats to accept it or let it go by default. We believe that every patriotic man is anxious and willing to do it in his power to accomplish a result that means so much to the American people and will not only contribute as much as possible to the legitimate expenses of the campaign, but use every individual endeavor to spread the glorious Democratic gospel proclaimed at Baltimore.

Making It Warm.

The Grand Jury adjourned Tuesday after returning a number of indictments. Three of those were against landowners who had placed their fences beyond their boundary line, thus encroaching on the highway and narrowing the road. The body will meet again today, and in the meantime a large number of witnesses have been summoned and it is likely that a big batch of indictments for encroaching on the highway will be returned. We are told that parties all over the county who have put their fences beyond the boundary will be forced to move them back to the proper line—Harrodsburg Herald.

On Monday the judgments of the Marion Circuit Court in the local option contested election case was certified to the county court and entered of record there. The dry side has not yet announced whether the case will be carried to the Court of Appeals, some claiming that if the judgment is not sustained within the next few days, notices for application for saloon licenses will be posted, and applications made thereafter to the county court for license. It is reported that 4 and possibly 5 licenses will be applied for.

Frank Willie Smith, a former Lebanon negro, has confessed to killing two men and robbing two women, one of whom he assaulted near Indianapolis. Smith was sent to the penitentiary from Lebanon several years ago for attempting to kill Tom Calhoun, a negro. He thought Calhoun was dead and threw him in the old tank pond, but the cold water revived him. When Chief Thompson arrested him later for the crime, he was forced to knock Smith down with an old mallet, which he took away from the negro.

What Makes a Woman?

One hundred and twenty pounds, more or less, of bone and muscle don't make a woman. It is a good foundation, but it is not the whole. She must have a mind, a heart, a soul, and she must be a kingdom. But that's just what Electric Bitters give her. Put into it health and strength and she may rule a kingdom. But that's just what Electric Bitters give her. Put into it health and strength and she may rule a kingdom. But that's just what Electric Bitters give her. Put into it health and strength and she may rule a kingdom.

Log Cabin Memorial.

The Harrodsburg Historical Society, of Harrodsburg, Ky., last week began the preliminary work to erecting a Memorial Cabin to Abraham Lincoln in the Old Fort Hill near the town.

The logs from the old cabin in which Thomas Lincoln and wife, the parents of Abraham Lincoln, first began housekeeping are to be used for the building and it will be constructed of the old logs from that stock of the hill. The house will be a museum of historical records and articles and when finished will be a quiet building. The logs that are being used were taken from the cabin which formerly stood in Washington county and they are all in an excellent state of preservation. The building is to be finished and ready for visitors next Spring—Latent Can'ty Herald.

THE COUGHS OF CHILDREN

They may not cough today, but what about tomorrow? Better be prepared for it when it comes. Ask your doctor about keeping Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house. Then when the hard cold or cough first appears you have a doctor's medicine at hand. This cough medicine is especially good for children. No anodynes. No alcohol.

Everybody has a chance to hear a good political speech Monday as both the Democrats and the Regular Republicans had one of their best here. Hon. Edward Morrow spoke first and delivered a very eloquent speech, satisfying everybody that he is a real live upshot of his "Uncle Bill." At the conclusion of Mr. Morrow's speech the Hon. Robert Harding, of Danville, Ky., delivered one of the most forceful speeches ever delivered in the Springfield Court House. The people here know Mr. Harding as a lawyer, but he proved to them here Monday that he is as much at home on the stump as in the Court House. His speech throughout was able and eloquent and his discussion of the issues was fair and contained nothing offensive to those who differed from him. Wherever there is a political race on we will be glad to have him come.

STORIES OF BRET HARTE.

His Dilemma of Social Duties and More Literary Friendships.
 Mr. Maurice Conway in his autobiography gives an amusing reminiscence of Bret Harte's promise to escape from what are known as "hotel duties." Mrs. Conway testified on Monday afternoon, and Bret Harte had told her that he would be present at a special Monday, but he failed to appear, much to the regret of some persons who had been invited for the occasion. "Well, claiming to 'meet him,'" writes Mrs. Conway, "I alleged to the disappointment. He asked forgiveness and said, 'I will come next Monday, even though I promise.'"

CURIOUS INSURANCE.

Some of the Quaker Risks Taken by the Broker at Lloyds.
 They will take any risk at Lloyds in London. It should be understood that this great corporation has nothing to do with it, but that the brokers issue policies as individuals. Here are a few specimens of risks actually insured.
 The uncle of a rich heiress took out a policy for 10,000 guineas against her eloping with a certain man before a specified date. He paid 1,000 guineas premium, and the girl did not elope, so the broker was in 1,000 guineas.
 A young man sued by a girl for damages for breach of promise to marry paid 800 guineas for a policy covering any amount of money the girl might sue him for the plaintiff. It gave her £700, so the broker made more than 400 profit.
 A cablegram arrived at the office of a shipowner stating that one of his steamers was on the rocks in a dangerous place. The owner took out a policy for £500, to be paid to him if the ship was lost. The ship was wrecked, so he lost the money—New York World.

AN HOUR'S WALK.

You Would Hardly Think It Meant Traversing 32,323 Miles.
 Have you ever thought of the time you travel when you are out on an hour's stroll? Possibly you walk three miles within the hour, but that does not by any means represent the distance you travel. The earth turns on its axis every twenty-four hours. For the sake of round figures, we will call the earth's circumference 24,000 miles, and so you must have traveled during the hour's stroll 1,000 miles in the 24 hours of the day.
 But that is not all. The earth makes a journey around the sun every year, and a long and rapid trip. The distance of our planet from the sun is 93,000,000 miles. The earth makes 365 revolutions around the sun in a year. This amazing distance the earth travels in its yearly journey, and dividing it by 365 we find the daily distance of 256,000 miles. Now we get the distance you rode around the sun during your hour's stroll. The result is about 66,000 miles. But this is not the end of your hour's trip. The sun, with its entire brood of planets, is moving in space at the rate of 100,000,000 miles in a year. That is at the rate of a little more than 43,000 miles a day, or 18,000 miles an hour.
 So, adding your three miles of leg travel to the hour's actual movement of the earth, this is the actual distance you travel in the hour's stroll. The result is that you have traveled in the hour's stroll 18,000 miles.

THE WORD HELL.

A Little Book That Contains Some Startling Information.
 A little book, containing at only ten cents, postpaid, is having a very wide circulation, running up into the millions. It contains some very startling information respecting the meaning of the word hell. It claims to demonstrate that hell is not a place of eternal torment, but merely another name for the TOY, the GRAVE, the STATE OF DEATH. It affects to show that this was not derived from a far off globe of certain figures, but that the Scriptures prove that hell is the state of death. It is a book that is being sold by the thousands, and is being read by millions. It is a book that is being sold by the thousands, and is being read by millions.

Women as well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble shows upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; causes sleepless nights and nervousness; when the kidneys are out of order or diseased, the body is made miserable.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is almost a curse to the human race. It is a disease that is born with the body, and it is a disease that is not cured by medicine, but by the use of the Remington-UMC Steel Lined Shot Shells.

The powder charge in Remington-UMC shells is gripped in the shell, and it is this that makes the shells so powerful. The powder charge is gripped in the shell, and it is this that makes the shells so powerful.

Each and Every One a Speed Shell

The speed that breaks your targets near the trap. That's why Remington-UMC Steel Lined Shot Shells have won 13 out of the 15 Handicap held in the last three years.

The speed that gets that mile-a-minute "duck" with a shorter lead—that's why it takes over 50,000 dollars to handle the demand for Remington-UMC Steel Lined Shot Shells.

The shooting fraternity are speed men. They know how smokeless powder won't drive shot. They know that the drive depends on the compression. The powder charge in Remington-UMC shells is gripped in the shell, and it is this that makes the shells so powerful.
